Members and other information for every morning will be published in the Arctic Area Bulletin. The results of the previous day's races. Besides that, the Bulletin will carry such results as draws as from time to time are available. The Bulletin also contains reports, as far as practicable, will be made, and cursors should watch the morning paper for their draws, times and places.

Ladies Competitions
The numbers of rinks included in the list published above, do not contain the numbers of any of the ladies' rinks. Entries for the ladies' competition should be sent to the secretary (Tuesday evening) but should be in the hands of the secretary of the Association by that time. There will probably be a very large number entered, and the competition will be well-managed throughout the city in the matter of the ladies' entries.

...ndies' section of the bonspiel is becoming one of considerable importance and all the fair sex rejoice about it to it that the entries are in the hands of the secretary before Tuesday evening at 9 o'clock.

CARNIVAL AT BANFF COMES TO GOOD CLOS

Was Most Successful Carnival
Ever Held at Banff in Every Respect

MANF. Feb. 5.—After a most successful run of eight days during which perfect weather prevailed the fifth annual Bismarck winter carnival closed tonight with a display of fireworks at the ice palace, peech illumination of the toboggan slide and a MacFarrell dance. At the latter the trophies, medals and prizes won were presented to the fortunate contestants and a carnival queen selected by popular vote and crowned with appropriate ceremonies. The queen will hold office until the last evening of the 1922 carnival. The crowds of visitors who attended most conclusively proved the popularity of such a carnival where winter sports are so popular.

The principal events on today's program were: The pony ski races held in the forenoon for the James I. Brewster cup and medals. There were four entries and the race was one quarter of a mile with the contestants on skis being hauled by rope attached to the saddle horn of a running horse. First and second prizes were captured by members of the B.C.M.P., Constables Kerr and Warko respectively.

The time was 22:13 seconds. The whips were held at 11:30 a.m. was one of the popular events and upwards of 20 of the miniature greyhounds entered. The winners were: First, Cooke's Gypsy Girl, Calgary; second "Slick," Calgary, in the puppy class; in the older dog events J. Donaldson's "Mickey" and George Fawis, of Banff, a "Mickey" and eGeorge Fawis of Banff, and with "Rhoderick."

Professional and amateur ski jumping records were broken. Neither, it appeared to the casual observer, the jumpers were not particularly keen to either break or equal the world's records. So really good ski jumping mostly of an exhibition class was pulled off. Lara Heung, professional, made 166 feet, and Ivan Nissen, amateur, 197 feet in a remarkable fifteen jump. Pete White, a local boy, sixteen years, made a jump of 83 feet.

YANKERS TO MEET AT SHREVEPORT, LA., FEB. 27TH.

The Vermilion Farmers stayed in the running for the championship of the little three league by defeating the Vermilion Farmers 10 to 3 in the last night in a most brilliant hockey contest. The score was 6 to 3. The difference between the two teams was just a matter of margin of the Victory.

The regulars were all at the top of their form and proved that they deserved all the good things said about them. The following were the players. Each of the seven men who were on

The Bruins are playing on the ice of the Grand Canyon, and Mats, with the usual assistance of the referees, will probably be the star of the show.

The Bruins are fighting now to retain the Stanley Cup, and they are playing against the Tigers in Calgary and the Redskins last night, the Calgary Stampede show. The Bruins are playing in the second position and the right to enter the play-off. The result of the Calgary game will be watched with interest by Edmonton fans.

Calgary's hockey teams seems have flashed four some stars on the firmament in days gone by, but it is doubtful if ever a satellite show will show this brilliancy throughout the game.

AT ARMORIES

TOMORROW EVE

Special Arrangements Have Been Made For Ladies Who Will Be Admitted Free

Tomorrow, Tuesday night, the first hostess of the Northern elimination boxing tournament will be a special treat. The list of entries includes some of the best boxers in the city as well as a number from outside the city.

The seating accommodation which has been arranged in the arena is for 1,000 persons. It was every bit arranged for boxing bouts in Edmonton, and special arrangements will be made to enable the ladies to see the contests.

As a rule ladies do not care to go to boxing bouts, but this time they will.

The arrangements for such events in Edmonton are not such as to encourage their attendance. The seating of the bouts at the armories conditions are different. Great facility for finding them to see the boxing bouts can be afforded.

The draw for the bouts tomorrow night will be made at the City Hall at 10 o'clock. The bouts published Tuesday morning.

TRAVELERS HEAR OF EMMENT MEN

Duke of Devonshire, Ontario
Governor, Sir George E. Foster
Speak at Banquet

Toronto, Feb. 6.—The Rev. Dr. J. H. McManis, president of the Dominion Association of Travelers, gave an address at a banquet held here last night by the Commercial Travelers' association of Canada. The conference in the future of Canada and all the other dominions in the British Empire, and confidence in the destiny of the British Empire as a whole. Speaking in the house, "Our Country," the Duke of Devonshire, in a brief address, stated that in Canada, the future could be looked forward to with perfect confidence. The resources of the land and the industry were abundant, and the future of the country assured. While it might be difficult to forecast just what the immediate events might be, confidence and optimism were justified, he said. The greatest hope that could be looked forward to today was based on that great movement taking place in the world and expressed in the League of Nations. "How ever able the assembly may be," Mr. McManis added, "it cannot of itself, be of any real value unless it has the sympathy and support of the nations of the world behind it. What was created here by the League of Nations, was a renewal of confidence in the future of the people and the assurance that a more glorious future awaited Canada than anything that had been done in the past."

Speaking also to the same toast, the Duke of Devonshire of Ontario referred to the fact that he had been a member of the Commercial Travelers' association for over 20 years, and he said that the association was one of the greatest factors in the life of the people and the dissemination of confidence of the people. Sir George Foster, "What would the world have been like if there had been no British Empire, and no British institutions? If there had been no British people, where would have been the freedom of the world? As the speakers were contemplating the future of the world, there was need for confidence, and he outlined some of the perplexing problems with which the world was grappling at the present moment. What was needed in the world, he said, was a sense of security in the world and a belief in the future of the world. The League of Nations was the first step in the direction of a more secure world, and he said that the League of Nations was the first step in the direction of a more secure world, and he said that the League of Nations was the first step in the direction of a more secure world.

The British Empire is founded on the solid rock of liberty and truth, and it is the duty of every citizen to uphold it. Sir George Foster, "What would the world have been like if there had been no British Empire, and no British institutions? If there had been no British people, where would have been the freedom of the world? Mr. W. W. Howell, who replied to the toast "Canada," spoke of the realization that the world was facing at the present moment, and he outlined some of the problems that the world was facing at the present moment. He said that the world was facing a great crisis, and he said that the world was facing a great crisis, and he said that the world was facing a great crisis. He said that the world was facing a great crisis, and he said that the world was facing a great crisis, and he said that the world was facing a great crisis.

London, Feb. 6.—The amalgamation of the Press and the Standard, the two largest of the old established London papers, was announced today. The amalgamation was the result of the crisis through which the British newspaper world is passing owing to the increased cost of newsprint and the augmented wages of editorial and mechanical staffs. The Globe, the evening newspaper in London, has been established in 1907. It has changed hands a number of times in recent years. It has been on the market for some months, as are other London papers.

TO WIN SALES MANSHIP CLUB

In a few short days our Big Salesmanship Campaign will be at an end and the $15,000 in rich awards—The Five Automobiles, Fifty-four Other Awards and Cash will be distributed. The winners will be those men and women who did their best and KEPT THEIR HEADS AND WORKED.

Never before were such useful and valuable awards presented strictly on the merits of one's salesmanship ability as are now before you in the generous offer made by The Edmonton Bulletin.

We appreciate the splendid opportunity you have of winning one of the big automobiles and your good work which will be of mutual benefit. Therefore we want to help you all we can and this is why we are telling you of a contest we had with a man who is known throughout the country as a master salesman. We asked him what he thought of The Bulletin's Salesmanship Club and for his opinion on Salesmanship, as applied to The Bulletin. Following is what he said:

"To begin with, I have always made it a point to represent a good house. This the members of your Club are doing, for no salesman for The Edmonton Bulletin need be ashamed of his line. That The Bulletin stands for all that is clean in Canadian Journalism is admitted by every one who knows the paper, its publishers and its policies. If I were a candidate, I would point out to every person with whom I came in contact, the following facts. Right now the matter of a daily newspaper should be settled in each household and a paid-in-advance subscription should leave the head of the house free to think of other matters. No man or woman is too poor to without a newspaper at such a time as this. No person too busy to read. We are living in the most momentous times in the history of the world, a time when no man can afford to neglect reading as many newspapers as possible."

With the general reconstruction following the great World War and the future development of Canada uppermost in the minds of the Canadian people, it should be easy for you to make it clear to your friends that one of the heritages that will pass down to the next generation will be a clear estimate of the most wonderful era in the history of Canada and the British Empire. The best way they can secure this estimate by reading the news of the day and intelligently discussing it. Make it clear that a paid-in-advance subscription for a year, or even six months will insure them certain delivery of The Bulletin every day regardless of the price of white paper, or the shortage of supply. They will have a contract with The Bulletin while the man who buys his paper in the street has no assurance that there will not be an increase in the price, or limiting of editions to supply regular patrons only.

You can assure your friends that the shortage of paper and the limit of the number of pages, as well as of editions on all publications is a real danger. With the first list of soldiers killed, wounded, and missing in Belgium and France there came a tremendous increase in demand for Newspapers. That condition will exist, and it is imperative that everybody should give a paid-in-advance subscription for some reliable newspaper quickly in order to have that paper promptly and regularly delivered.
